Just the Facts.

Fact 1: Absolutely no other comic dealer buys more golden and silver age comics than we do.

Although the pages of CBG are filled with other dealers offering to pay "top dollar", the simple truth is that Metropolis spends more money on more quality comic book collections, year in and year out, than any other dealer in the country. We have the funds and the expertise to back up our words. The fact is that we have spent nearly 2 million dollars on rare comic books and movie posters over the last year. If you have books to sell, call us toll-free at 1-800-229-6387. If you know of any comic book or movie poster collections, call us today for a generous finder's fees. All calls will be kept strictly confidential.

Fact 2: Absolutely no other comic dealer sells more golden and silver books than we do.

We simply have the best stock of golden and silver age comic books in the country. The thousands of collectors familiar with our strict grading standards and excellent service can attest to this. Chances are, if you want it, we have it.

EDITOR'S NOTE

By the time you read this, the new Wizard Comic Book Price Guide Annual will be in comics shops, newsstands, bookstores, and hopefully, everywhere else a comic book collector is likely to go. The gang here at Comics Source has high hopes for our two-page advertisement in the front part of the book offering a free trial subscription to new readers. Early reports from the guys up at Wizard HQ seem to indicate that the book will be a huge success—so we're hoping that our ad will bring in thousands of new Comics Source subscribers. I'll keep you posted.

Am I the only one, or is everyone getting depressed by the constant complaints about the state of the comic book industry (primarily, the new releases)? It seems every trade magazine I pick up is crying about how publishers need to get out of the business, or how comics shops are going out of business on a seemingly daily basis. It's sad. I have a suggestion for retailers whose local markets may be drying up: expand into mail-order by advertising in Comics Source. Check out Craig Shutt's "How To Sell Via Mail-Order" in this issue for tips on how you can sell those so-called hot back issues that aren't so hot in your local area. Sure, packing orders and taking phone calls isn't as easy as sitting behind a cash register, but sitting on your duff waiting for customers to walk in won't cut it anymore. You've got to reach out, explore new markets, traverse brave new worlds...and so on and so on. In other words, pull your pants up, turn your hat around, and get to work!

One thing I am sure of, there are more collectors than ever! This hobby is growing, at least in the Silver Age and Golden Age sectors. What if all these guys who were buying recent releases suddenly woke up one day and realized that the new stuff was for the most part crap and decided to collect the classic stuff from the '40s, '50s, and '60s? What would happen? Hmmm...probably the magazines devoted to the Golden Age and Silver Age would begin to do extremely well, while the ones that weren't profitable would be depressed and looking for ways to "fix the problem."

Sound familiar?

Enjoy!

Fanzines

There seems to be an awful lot of interest in fanzines produced in the sixties all of a sudden. Or maybe there's been some activity going on in that area all along, and its just now coming to my attention. Anyway, I got another letter from this guy in New York, Jay Kennedy, and he was trying another tack to weasel me out of my collection. I'm still not interested in trading or selling, which is what I told him the first time. The man is nothing if not persistent.

But he mentioned something in his second letter that was news to me—he said the best efforts to document the history of comics fandom were done by the McGeehan brothers and at one time they had every fanzine published. Well, I'd never heard of the McGeehan brothers (which proves nothing) but was under the distinct impression that Bill Schelly of Seattle was the first fan historian to make a concerted effort to get at least one copy of every amateur comics-related pub produced in the sixties. This starting about 2 years ago.

Lo and behold, in one of Schelly's latter-day histories (The BB/CC *Story, pub*lished this year) the first page of a 'zine called The Comicollector (from 1961) is reproduced. On that page a guy named John McGeehan ran an ad declaring that he wanted any and all amateur and pro mags and 'zines with one or more articles or stories on, by or about comics. He then went on to enumerate other areas of his interests: articles, books, magazines, etc. on Ch*arlie Chan, Sherlock Holmes, Zorro, ERB* and on and on and on.

I'm mentioning this because there are two possibilities for interesting source articles—one being a history of comics fandom; the other being the story on the McGeehans. Frankly, the origins of comics fandom doesn't interest me all that much (and may well not interest the general Comics Source reader—they all seem to be guys in their forties who are interested in Silver Age comics primarily; and not fanzines per se—but you never know). A one-or-two page article on the McGeehan brothers would be interesting from two points of view—the first being why they were interested in accumulating all this information, to the extent that they wound up with one copy each of every fanzine ever published—and, second, what happened to this unusual collection? Kennedy says they once had all the 'zines published. My uncanny instinct for a news story with a human interest slant tells me there might be an article there.

Anyway, I passed along a couple of addresses to Kennedy. One was Harry's—I notice it appeared in Com*ics Source #14*. Harry never said anything about collecting fanzines. Still, he's been active in the hobby for a long while, and you pick up a few here and there without necessarily intending to. Or maybe Harry could refer him to someone else who could help him.

Comics Source is finding a niche in the market—this after a period of trial and error. As much as I liked your old banner-line "America's Comic Book Marketplace," there's no doubt that "The Collector's Guide to Rare Comics" more accurately describes the mag's editorial content.

I also like this new cover format better all the time. It would have been kind of neat if you'd gone into a little more detail on the significance of War Aga*inst Crime*. Some people might be puzzled as to why the appearance of the Vault Keeper was important. It says, "Important Transition Issue" but it doesn't go on to say why. Educate at every opportunity, that is my motto.

Along that line, there was an interesting sidebar accompanying Dr. Keith's article—A List of Recommended Golden Age Investments, it was called. This kind of thing makes a lot more sense than the pick hits of the current crop. And it also acts as a history lesson. I knew at one time that Superboy debuted in More Fun Comics. Indeed, I have vague recollections of reading that first-ever story. But Superboy went on to headline Adventure Comics for so many years that if someone asked me I'd probably have disremembered his origin as having appeared in Adventure rather than More Fun.

Going all the way back to the ninth issue of the Source is another article with capsule descriptions of significant (if overlooked) vintage titles. I really liked this a lot. The article I'm referring to is David Alexander's Cu*lture and Thrills: Half a Dozen Ten Cent Treasures and a Pulp*. Something else I may have known at one time, but had forgotten, was that EC's first horror story appeared in the fifth issue of M*oon Girl*. He might have elaborated further on M*oon Girl* as a title because its checkered odyssey tells an interesting story. You get an idea of the kind of flux the comics industry was in during the late forties.

Moon Girl and the Prince debuted as a quarterly in the fall of 1947. By the next issue, the Prince had been dropped from the title, and it was just Moon Girl. Clearly, no one at EC realized that the day of the marginal costumed hero was done. Indeed, they hedged their bets when the format was revised to accommodate Gleason-like "true crime" stories. With the sixth issue, the title was changed to Moon Girl Fights Crime. While this doesn't qualify as a hybrid title like, for instance, B*lue Bolt Weird* or Space Western, it's definitely an example of trying to appeal to two segments of the market simultaneously. This lasted two issues and then, in a complete departure, the format switched to love stories and the title transmogrified into A Moon...A Girl...Romance. This strategy should have worked. Romance was definitely popular in the post-war era, and for many years thereafter. For whatever reason, EC's flirtation with the love comic genre lasted only four issues. And with the number thirteen the title switched to science-fiction. And the company finally found the "New Trend" it spent three years of trial and error looking for.

Wally Wood, by the way, was a mainstay of the legendary EC art staff, and wasn't black. You're probably thinking of Matt Baker. Baker was the mainstay at Fiction House and is credited with perfecting the slick, commercial style associated with the FH line. All those memorable Sheena covers were either done by Baker, or people who were instructed to mimic his style. I don't keep up so I don't know if anyone has done any bio's on this guy. That newsletter by Clay Geerdes (which was mainly devoted to eviscerating you-know-who) noted that several collections of Baker's work on the Sky Gal series had been published. There might be some kind of career sketch in one of those.

November issue of C*omic Scene #47* had an unusual editorial. Unusual that is for a fanboy-type mag. The editor was remarking the proliferation of comics publishers, and the incredible number of press kits that land on his desk every week. Then asks the fateful question—does the industry really need another comic book company? The answer, of course, is no. He then goes on to browbeat those "endlessly proliferating pseudo-price guides."

On the other hand, maybe this approach isn't so unusual. I find in the Comics Scene Yearbook for '94 (which presumably came out in January of this year; there's no release date in the indicia) a seven-page article entitled Why Your Comics Are Worthless. The Overstreet Price Guide comes in for its licks and, among other things, there's mention of the tulip bulb fiasco that happened in 1630 Netherlands. Pretty interesting.

I'm beginning to realize—belatedly—that the question of when the "Golden Age" ended is of little concern to the average Source reader. I imagine they'd get more exercised over gross miscall on the termination of the Silver Age. Still, I enjoyed having the opportunity to correct yet another conspicuous (and inexplicable) error of fact in the annual Price Guide.

I've rambled on enough, I guess. As the leaves begin to turn and autumn replaces summer, I find myself wondering how you-know-who will find the climate up north. Of course, fall is a pleasant season just about everywhere. But, can winter be far behind? Seems to me that those states on the Atlantic seaboard are what the newscasters call the Nation's Ice Box. Yes sir...I'll bet it gets very cold there in the winter.

Please Keep The Articles

Let me start off by congratulating you and your staff on putting out an excellent publication. I came across it completely by accident but I've found it to be a first rate resource/guidance tool in the area of collecting comic books.

I would like to add my two cents worth to the discussion that has been going on in the last several issues regarding the content of your magazine. I would like to side with the opinion that likes, enjoys, reads and looks forward to the informative articles each month. Without that forum what do you have? The meat without the potatoes, the coffee without the cream, etc. These articles give life and a forum for readers to exchange with others out there. It allows us to share our experiences and joy in collecting comics; and, I feel as though that is what makes this hobby so different from all the other hobbies.

On that note, is it possible to get back issues of Comics Source #1-3. (I heard the articles in them are great.) What would be the cost of each issue?

Keep up the good work. I enjoy reading the letter column each month too. I look forward to your reply.

Dennis A. Brennan
Rego Park, NY

Thanks for the comments, Dennis. Don't worry, I agree with you, and we do plan to have informative articles of all kinds. Look for plenty of good articles in upcoming Comics Source issues. But, look for a mix of historical, fan-oriented, and market oriented texts.

We do have back-issues of Comics Source, they are available for $5 each postpaid.

What About T.A.Z.E.R.?

I have noticed that you haven't covered Comic Creations or their hit book T.A.Z.E.R. I have issues 1 and 2 and would like to know how much they are worth. I would also like to know how to get a signed copy of T*.A.Z.E.R.* #1. I feel that this could be the Turtles of the '90s, since it is a self-published book. I think you guys should do an article on the creator and artist of this book.

Chris Rantz
Hixson, TN

I'm sure the book you refer to is great, Chris. But, the fact is Comics Source covers older comics, hard-to-find back-issues, and such. Coverage of new releases is better covered by Wizard, Previews, Advance Comics, and any number of other new-release oriented magazines. Sorry.

Articles Are A Must!

As I hope you know by now, I have always been a big supporter of Comics Source and its unique way of dealing with the comics market. Though I am but one of your many subscribers, I would like to offer what I think is a helpful suggestion for C*omics Source*. I realize that my suggestion might conflict with the results of your subscriber surveys. And it's possible you might feel my suggestion is somewhat self-serving (since I am one of your editorial contributors). However, this is not the case.

I believe the very best characteristic of Comics Source, its marketplace accessibility, is also its weakness. Let me explain. If someone knows what comic titles they need and want to buy, it doesn't take them but a few seconds to write down the necessary phone numbers from the Advertiser Directory. They don't need to buy the magazine!

Sure, I know Comics Source includes a few brief pieces about comics. But after I receive my copy, it doesn't take but a few minutes for me to read them, and then that issue is of no further use.

This is not to overlook the obvious benefit that advertisers derive from Comics Source. Indeed, all-in-all Comics Source is unique and provides a much-needed service—especially in light of the "disconnected" price guides which proliferate. However, my one suggestion is that with the addition of a couple of somewhat longer articles on comics history and such, Comics Source would have a perfect blend, content-wise. Further, it would make people like myself feel like the amount of use they get from Comics Source is well worth the cover price.

Comics Source is so accessible, it's quickly dispensable! That's the one point I'm trying to make. If I'm mistaken, I apologize.

Please understand the foregoing is meant to be helpful, not as a criticism in a negative sense. My only wish is for Comics Source to be increasingly successful. (Incidentally, I've already ordered the first annual Wizard Comics Price Guide from Westfield. Can't wait to see it.)

I gave Joel the address of a couple in MD who publish a price guide on McDonalds collectibles. Saw your editorial in Comics Source #14, so I also talked with another fellow there at Comics Source and gave him the address and number of the new The Kirby Collector. I thought he might want to advertise in Comics Source, or visa versa.

The first issue of The Kirby Collector impressed me. Roz Kirby endorses it, and the publisher, John Morrow, has access to the complete archives of Greg Theakston! John has already been contacted by people in France and England. I sent him some material I'd done on Kirby, including the Michelangelo one I did for Comics Source. Anyway, though I won't get paid, my material should eventually (?) be seen by an appreciative audience.

Also, I've sent a letter to CBG and Robin Snyder (The Comics) announcing the upcoming ten year anniversary of Alpha Omega. It will be marked by the 60th bi-monthly issue which will ship to members in January 1995.

Hopefully an associate in Albuquerque will be publishing a four-color Christian Comics & Games Quarterly, projected for late spring next year. It should fill a void in the market, if everything goes well.

Kill The Messenger

Well, looks like my recently published article (Price Guide Nuttiness) managed to upset folks from the left coast all the way to Tennessee. I have been written to, called up and approached in person by many folks who wanted to read me the riot act for being so impudent. I have been accused of 1) having a vendetta—(No, I don't) 2)Hoarding books like Action #23 and Challengers #1 — yeah, right. I'm really tired of this. People have been accusing me of hoarding books since I started offering 10X guide for Showcase #34 when it listed at $40 in NM. No! For the billionth time, I don't have any copies of any of the books I mentioned. In fact, at the time I wrote the article, I had a Fine copy of Showcase #4 that I was having a hard time getting ride of. Now, why would I vilify a book I was stuck with if I was hoarding others. Incidentally, I have been told by a dealer I know and trust well that there have been at least 7 verified sales of F-FVF Showcase #4 in the $6000-$8500 range. Good! If that's the case, then the price should go up 3) Being unfair in my criticism. OK, Let me make this crystal clear—I'm not the one making up these prices. I'm not the one claiming to be a "Bible" of anything. I'm not the one absolutely ignoring what's going on in the Silver and Gold markets. Keep in mind that this power establishment is the same organization I fought with for years when Jon (you note I said "Jon") started the updates and bulletins over things like their claiming Green Lan*tern #40* was the 1st Silver Age appearance of the Green Lantern, that Atom was the 1st Silver Age appearance of the GA Atom, that Adventure #260 was the 1st SA appearance of Aquaman even though he was in #259, 258, 257, 256, 255, etc., that Adventure #40 was on the stands before World's Fair 1939 even when the Library of Congress said differently. I could go on and on. All I'm doing is pointing out obvious mistakes and wondering why they exist. I asked everyone that spoke with me a few questions:

1) In all your years of comics have you ever seen a copy of Showcase #24 sell for more than a #23 in like grade—all said no.

2)Does it make any sense and is it your experience that key GA goes up on a percentage basis more in low grade than high grade? All said No.

3) Do you think it is the job of any price guide editor to assign prices based on what he or she perceives as the scarcity of the book (all said no) or should price guides base prices on actual sales (all said yes)

4)Why are you even talking to me since you agree with all my main points?

I don't for one minute feel I've been unfair to anyone. As I said, all I did was look at their numbers and question their validity based on my experience. I don't think any "Bible" should have what I perceive as a lack of understanding of the market. I've said this before - there aren't that many books to keep up with. Anyone that did this as a job should be able to do it, and do it well.

When the updates first got started, Jon had a heretofore unheard of idea. An idea so logical it hadn't been tried. A group of regional advisors would report prices to Jon and he would base update prices on these actual sales using a rolling 6 month average. I'm happy he asked me to be one of his advisors. What I did every week was to call all the area stores and my friends around the country and write down verified sales, compiled with my own actual sales. With these figures, Jon was able to accurately price books and only be a month or so behind. He still got flack from the powers that be. In fact, at first the big guide ignored what we were doing in the updates and bulletins. Even worse, after working our asses off for years, many of our names weren't even listed in the big guide. It was as if we and the updates didn't exist.

I'll close with this: I don't give one good damn who prints an accurate price guide. I unashamedly love comics and all I've ever wanted from any price guide was a little bit of intelligence, integrity, awareness and consistency. I still see the same need and just hope someone, someday achieves this. Is this clear enough?

Keith Contarino
Poweder Springs, GA

You are wrongly accused of many things, Keith, but controversiality ain't one of 'em!

One Bad Apple...

I would like to inform you of a recent transaction I made through Comics Source which, as of yet, is unresolved. It may be, in your view, a bit premature as of this date to expect that my problem will go unresolved, but I still feel it is important to write this letter to inform you of the events which have transpired to date.

I recently purchased a book, Mystery Men Comics #3, which was advertised in Comics Source by a person whose name will, for now, go unmentioned. This advertiser listed the book as being in ""VF-" condition. I sent him a deposit of $200, and paid the balance approximately a week later. I paid both payments by personal check. (The price of the book was $425.)

This person sent me the book immediately, without waiting for the checks to clear, although it is very possible that the first one had already cleared when he mailed me the book (without his knowing it.)

I received the book OK. I have been collecting comics for 15 years, and graded it as, at best, a "VG plus" copy. The book was barely attached to its staples, had two spine splits, and a small crease on the back cover. It was grossly overgraded.

Initially I discussed the possibility of working out a lower price on the book with the advertiser (I called him the same day I received it.) He agreed to refund me $75. After considerable thought, I called him back the NEXT DAY, and told him I'd decided that I wanted to return the book to him for a full refund.

He unceremoniously told me to simply send it back, and hung up on me. (This from a guy who was very friendly and courteous up until this point.) I have to stress that I was extremely "gentlemanly" and courteous in all of my communications.

The very next day (3rd day of having the book in my possession) I sent it back to him at my expense. I waited 8 or 9 days and called him. He rudely informed me that, in order to refund my money,, he would need a note from my bank indicating that the checks had cleared! He was willing to send me the so-called "VF-"" book before the checks cleared, but now that I'd returned it, he required proof that the checks were good. I suggested that he simply check with his bank, which could easily determine if the checks had cleared yet, to which he replied that "Canadian banks won't do that the way your banks do." (I also told him that I'd already received the first check back canceled from my bank, so obviously it had cleared okay.)

Now, I can understand his wanting to be sure that HE didn't get ripped off, and that both my checks were good. So why did he send me the book without waiting for the darn things to clear in the first place? I feel that he now is merely acting vindictively and childishly unprofessional by requiring that I send him a letter from my bank. I plan to do so, but am very disappointed in the entire matter. I was astonished when, upon trying merely to DISCUSS the whole thing with him, he merely replied that I had to do it his way, and that he didn't want me for a customer anymore, anyway.

One thing I want to make clear is that I have bought books through the mail on very few occasions, for fear of exactly this sort of crap. I have repeatedly bought expensive comics from Jim Payette in the past, nearly exclusively from Jim, and he can vouch for my integrity (as most of the books I purchased from him were on time payments.)

I fully expect this matter to be resolved, but I am disgusted in the way I feel I was treated by this guy. I have been a supporter of Comics Source since issue #1, and would appreciate any help or suggestions that you could give me regarding this matter. I realize that this advertiser may full well send me the cash just as soon as he receives this "proof" (again, which he never required before he sent me the book), but what seems to have been lost in the shuffle is the fact that, as Keith Contarino has written in Comics Source, that $425 is my money until I've kept the book for six days.

My mistake was to assume that because someone had been in the comics business for a long time, he would know what he was doing. The book he offered is a scarce one, so I took a chance on him. Remember, I was very courteous and very respectful, up until he became what I feel is rude, and vindictive.

As you guys at Comics Source are dependent on mail order comics sales for your very existence, I thought it appropriate to let you know that I have very strong reservations about buying books through the mail again, and truly doubt that I will do so. It's just too difficult to have large sums of money tied up for weeks or months on risky transactions. I'd appreciate your thoughts on this. I enjoy receiving your magazine very much, this is a fun hobby for me, but this type of behavior shouldn't be left unmentioned. Thanks for "listening" and I look forward to your advice.

John T. Signorelli
Peace Dale, RI

I didn't print this advertiser's name because I didn't have time before we went to press to get a reply from him, and I wanted to print your letter to illustrate the kind of ways that a mail-order transactions can go bad. If your problem isn't resolved by the time you read this, write back and let us know. Even if the problem is resolved, the bad taste may sour you to buying through the mail anyway. Don't let one bad apple spoil your pursuit of comics for your collection, John. Most sellers are reputable and strive to provide the highest level of customer service. Those that don't eventually go out of business. In defense of mail-order buying, let me just say that I've had similar problems with buying books at a convention, i.e., discovering an ad page missing that I didn't notice at first and being told "tough luck" by the seller (well-known I might add) when I called him up to explain the problem. So, deals can go bad even when buying "in person."

COMICS SPOTLIGHT

Five Mega Keys from DC's Golden Age

Each month, CS will turn the spotlight on several comics worthy of note. This first time out, we peek behind the cover of five of DC's mega-key Golden Age issues to give you a brief look at what actually appears inside those ultra-expensive comics you see pictured all the time.

Our pick for the number one Golden Age book to own. Mortgage the house—buy one!

"Detective Comics Inc." (DC) June 1938Featuring the debut and origin of Superman, this comic kicked off the Golden Age and introduced many super-hero motifs that remain 50 years later. Let's face it, the entire comics world would be vastly different if Supes had only worn his underwear under his tights instead of on top!

Originally planned as a newspaper strip, this first adventure consists of a variety of vignettes: Superman saves a woman from being wrongfully executed for murder; stops a wife-beater; saves Lois from being kidnaped; and starts to clean up some senatorial corruption in D.C. It was expanded and reprinted in Superman #1 along with its concluding chapter from Action #2. Not reprinted was a one-page origin story that offers a "scientific explanation" of Kal-El's powers, describing how Kryptonians are "gifted with titantic strength." (Very scientific.)

Zatara the Magician, a long-running character and the father of today's Zatanna, also is introduced in one of the issue's seven features, two in black & white.

Some guesses place as few as 75 copies in existence, but every now and then one changes hands. It'll set you back about $30,000 in VG, more than double its value five years ago. The combination of historical impact, iconic hero introduction, and origin story means it won't be dropping in value in our lifetimes.

"Dectective Comics Inc." (DC); May 1939"The Amazing and Unique Adventures of The Batman" begin with socialite Bruce Wayne and Commissioner Gordon having a chat about "this fellow they call 'The Bat-Man'." Then, in only six pages, "The Bat-Man" (always with quotes) stops a chemical company exec from killing his partners to take over the biz.

In the process, "The Bat-Man" throws one henchman off a roof and knocks the mastermind into a vat of acid. Hey, these things happen. In the final two panels, we see "The Bat-Man" returning to his home—Bruce Wayne's mansion! Who woulda guessed?

By creating a yin to Superman's yang, Bob Kane and Bill Finger dreamed up an icon that's become a hero icon rivaled only by the Big Blue Boy Scout. The book's other nine (!) features include Siegel & Schuster's Slam Bradley, Fred Guardineer's Speed Saunders, and the Crimson Avenger, DC's first real masked avenger.

One of these dudes sold recently for $125,000 in cash this summer. That no doubt will raise the price across the board—which have jumped about 300% in five years. It's only six pages of "The Bat-Man," but they're six pages that lots of people would love to own. Our opinion: this book is the only one that can claim to be the equal of Action 1. Sorry, Fantasy 15—Spidy's first appearance is important, but not on the same par with these granddaddys.

SUPERMAN 1

"Detective Comics Inc." (DC); Summer 1939

One of the first comics ever devoted to a single character (Skippy's Own Book Of Comics beats it--but who cares about Skippy?), this issue reprints the story from Action #1 with four lead-in pages. They show Clark Kent being turned down for a job at the Daily Star and vowing to change the editor's mind.

To that end, Supes stops a lynch mob from killing a jailed prisoner. "Thanks!" the sheriff says. "Who are you?" "A reporter!" Kal replies prematurely. The grateful prisoner tells Supes about the frame-up, leading us into the reprint. Action #2's concluding chapter also is reprinted, as are the stories from Action #3-4.

The issue kicks off with a two-page explanation of how Supes came to Earth and also includes a one-page version of the Action origin, explaining that Earth's lesser gravity enhances Kal's superior alien physique. It's still nonsense, but at least they're trying harder.

Also featured is a nice one-pager devoted to background and photos of Jerry Siegel and Joe Schuster and a two-page centerfold extolling the virtues of the Supermen of America club.

This book is one that, although not as scarce as Action 1 or Detective 27, it's sure to be a key for years to come. Afterall,comics may not ever have evolved past the anthology stage if this book had not been the huge commercial success that it was. Its value has quadrupled over five years—but then, they don't come much bigger and better than this.

FLASH COMICS 1

All-American Comics; January 1940

Not only do eager readers learn the title character's origin, but we meet The Hawkman and Johnny Thunder! Mmm baby, and all in color for a dime! Actually it's a little pricier today—in fact a copy finally hit the 100-grand mark this summer.

But with good reason! In our lead story, Jay Garrick's girlfriend Joan scolds him for not becoming a success with his considerable brains and brawn. Downcast, Jay spends the night in the lab. When he breaks for a ciggie, he also breaks a vial of hard water. He is overcome by the fumes, which give him super speed. The big blabbermouth shows off his talent to Joan and then spends this 12-page epic saving her from dastardly villains.

Meanwhile, after Sheldon Moldoff's Cliff Cornwall tale, we learn how Carter Hall became The Hawkman by dressing as the ancient hawk-god Anubis and using his secret ninth metal to foil a villain he's fought through the ages in various reincarnations.

Johnny Thunder takes 10 pages to explain how he was kidnapped as a baby, given enormous powers, and escaped before anyone told him how to use the power. By story's end, he's still puzzled, and we're coming back for more next time!

This might just be one of the really undervalued Golden Age keys. Heck, you get two major DC characters in their first appearance! And this book isn't too easy to find, either. Try finding one—when you do, buy it!

All-American Comics; Winter 1940

Although heroes had co-starred in comics before, they'd never met in the same adventure. In fact, no literary heroes anywhere had ever met before this issue! Saying this was the start of something big would be an understatement.

The splash page repeats the cover shot of eight super guys sitting around a table, and page two shows Johnny Thunder meeting Dr. Fate as they head to the first meeting. Then the Sandman shows up, the Flash flashes in, and we're off and running. Page three adds Green Lantern and Hawkman, and then Johnny wishes the other would show up faster. Since Johnny's wishes always come true, Hourman, Spectre, and the Atom instantly appear. That ticks off the Spectre, which isn't the smartest move a mortal human can make.

They all calm down and take turns telling their most exciting adventure, drawn by the hero's own artist. Not until issue #4 did they sally forth in a joint escapade.

The Mile High copy of this classic recently changed hands for 90,000 enchiladas, more than four times its value five years ago. Lower grade copies are a bit easier to find. Don't be finicky, this baby's going up no matter what the grade!

Philadelphia Comic Book Spectacular October 21-23

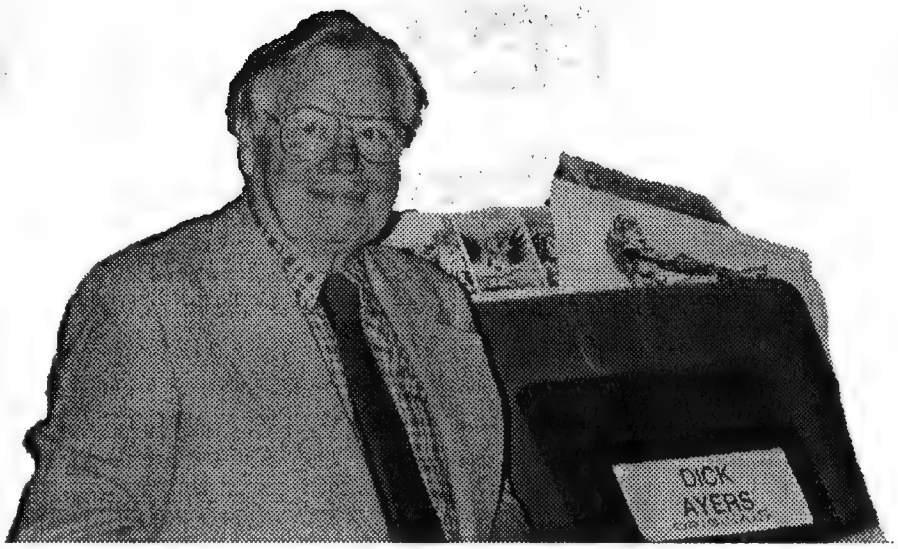
By James Cangialosi

You can hear the commotion taking place even before you enter the area. Children are running by you yelling at their parents to hurry up. Then you get to the entrance and look in, and all you can see are comic books and people. It's at that point you realize you have reached the one place where fans, collectors, dealers and professionals gather to celebrate an industry they truly enjoy. You have entered a comic book convention.

Wolverine and a friend

The Philadelphia Comic Book Spectacular, which took place from October 21-23, had its ups and downs. From a fans point of view you couldn't have had a better time anywhere else, but from a dealers point of view the convention did not bring about record breaking sales of golden and silver age books. The convention had the usual attractions. Fans had the opportunity to meet various comic book professionals, and could go from dealer to dealer trying to locate those hard-to-find high grade books. New comic companies such as Delta, Event and Zion made their first public appearances, and unveiled their various lines of books. The older companies, such as Marvel and DC, did not set up their own displays for the event, but were represented by the numerous professionals who produce their books.

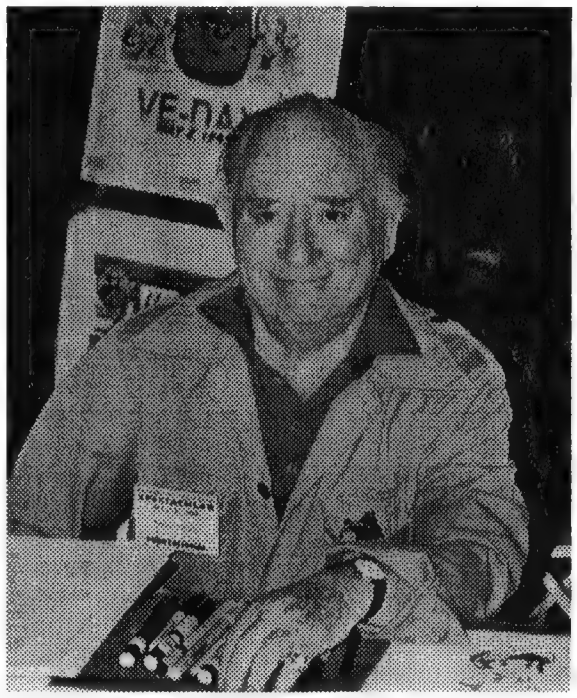
My favorite time of any convention is going around to meet the various comic professionals in attendance. During this event I had the pleasure of meeting Dick Ayers, Chuck Dixon, Jack C. Harris, Irwin Hasen, Sheldon Moldoff, and many more. Speaking with the golden age artists was the most enjoyable point of the convention, because I got a view of today's comic industry through the eyes of those who helped forge the industry during the thirties and forties. Dick Ayers, artist of the golden age Batman and Magazine Enterprise's Ghost Rider, feels that today's industry should lighten up on the graphic violence. He remembers the desire for censorship of comics during the 1950's, and believes it could happen today if the companies aren't careful. Irwin Hasen, golden age artist of Green Lantern and Wildcat and artist of the comic strip Dondi, feels that most of the material being produced today is just fluff. The stories and art lack imagination, and all seem to be carbon copies of each other. He did praise artists who start companies, such as Image Comics, in order to get out of the hand of publishers. Sheldon Moldoff, golden age artist of Hawkman and Green Lantern would only say that the comic book industry is in trouble and that he couldn't understand who the companies are trying to attract with their new products. One thing that he said which I found quite humorous was that he was only paid around fifteen dollars to do the cover to All-American Comics No. 16, and now the book is worth thousands of dollars. Each of these golden age greats were selling their own art. Dick Ayers was selling photocopies of various works he had done over the years, and Irwin Hasen would sketch and color Green Lantern, Wildcat or Dondi for $35. Sheldon Moldoff had the most impressive amount of original comic art for sale. Portraits which he was selling included



Dick Ayers

Captain America vs. Batman for $50, Hawkman and Green Lantern vs. Solomon Grundy for $175, various portraits of Hawkman for prices ranging from $150-$200, the Marvel Family for $175, and the recreated covers to All-American Comics No. 16, All-Star Comics No. 2 and Flash Comics No. 11 each for $750. Owning an original piece from any one of these artists would be a great addition to anybody's collection.

A large variety of comic books was offered at the convention, but there seemed to be purchasing activity by collectors. Many dealers were offering a 30%-50% discount on books ranging from silver age to the present. New books were being sold by some dealers at the bargain basement rate of three books for one dollar. Most dealers I spoke with had little to say on sales, because there were not that many sales worth mentioning taking place. Mark Derrick [Have Comics - Will Travel] sold Detective Comics No. 32 for $800, and Mad Magazine No. 4 for $90. John Hauser sold Showcase No. 6 in G/VG for $200, Showcase No. 20 in FN/VF for $240, and Thing No. 12 in VG for $125. David Hinson of David's Comics and Cards sold All-Flash No. 5 in NM for $550, Batman No. 10 for $2,200 (this was part of a package deal), Flash No. 30 in NM for $600, and Superman No. 17 in NM for $1,200. Mr. Hinson also had a beautiful copy of Animal Comics No. 1 (first appearance of Walt Kelly's Pogo) in Mint for $2,000 for sale. Mark Montgomery of Comic Heritage sold Captain Aero No. 5 at guide for $75, Dynamic Comics No. 16 in VG/FN for $47.50, Sub-Mariner No. 39 in FN+ for $250, Tales of Suspense No. 35 in NM for $220, Tales of Suspense No. 38 in NM for $200 and Thing No. 5 at guide for $100. Many dealers had very nice copies of Adventure Comics, All-Star Comics, Batman, Flash Comics and various Timelys, but there was very little interest on the part of buyers.



Irwin Hasen

The one thing I noticed while going from dealer to dealer was that there were many prospective buyers looking for bargains. If a dealer would quote the price of a book at $500 the buyer would say, "How about $400?" The dealer would say no and the buyer would walk away. I saw examples of this time and again during the convention. If you are a collector of golden and silver age comics and want a really nice copy of a book then you are going to have to pay a good amount of money to own it. If the price of a book is beyond your means then buy a lower grade of the same book, or save your money until you can afford a higher grade copy. But, to go from dealer to dealer trying to make the greatest deal ever is not going to work, because many of the dealers have to pay top dollar for the books and are not going to sell them at a loss. The only advice I can give to collectors is buy wisely, and only buy what you like.

Once again I saw a great deal of young speculators buying the "hot" new books, running over and getting autographs from the book's writers and artists (if they were present), and trying to sell it back at a profit. I can't fault these kids for trying, but when this happens it is not going to do anything positive for the industry.

I hope to see all the dealers and professionals in February at the New York convention, and, remember, enjoy the world of comics and let your imagination soar. ■

AUCTION REPORT

Christies East October 29

By James Cangialosi

On Saturday, October 29, Christie's East had their annual Comic Collectibles auction. Items offered included comic books from the golden and silver age, and numerous pieces of comic book and comic related art. Golden and silver age comic books offered included DC's, Fawcetts, Marvels, Qualitys, and Timelys. This auction, besides offering rare pieces of comic book memorabilia, was touted as a tribute to Jack Kirby. Many of the books and pieces of original art offered were created by Kirby. The auction exemplified the legacy the King left behind, and showed what his fertile imagination and talent meant to so many of his fans.

Golden age DC Comics books sold included Action Comics Nos. 74, 87 and 106 in VF+ for $1,600 (for the group), Adventure Comics No. 62 in FN+ for $700, All-Flash Quarterly No. 1 in VF for $3,400, Batman No. 1 in VF- (creamy pages) for $29,000, Batman Nos. 3 in FN- for $1,600 and 8 in FN+ for $1,200, Batman Nos. 27, 29 and 31 in overall VF for $1,500 (for the group), Comic Cavalcade No. 1 in VG+ for $1,300, Detective Comics No. 38 in VF for $7,000, Flash Comics Nos. 41, 80, and 89 in overall VF for $1,900 (for the group), Green Lantern (GA) No. 6 in VF (white pages) for $750, More Fun Comics No. 9 in VG for $2,200 and No. 11 VF- for $3,200, Superman No. 3 in FN+ for $3,200 and No. 4 in FN for $2,200.

During my monthly interviews of dealers I continually hear how much interest collectors and investors have in Timely comic books. After seeing all the activity for Timely books during the auction I see that my information has been accurate. Books sold included Captain America No. 1 from the first Denver Collection in VF+ for $32,000, Marvel Mystery Comics No. 19 (origin of Toro) in FN+ for $700, Marvel Mystery Comics Nos. 63 and 65 in overall VF+ for $1,600 (for the pair), Marvel Mystery Comics Nos. 33 and 40 in overall VF for $1,400 (for the pair), Marvel Mystery Comics No. 24 and Human Torch No. 8 (Human Torch - Sub Mariner battle) in VG- for $600 (for the pair), and USA Comics No. 15 in VF+ for $480

Numerous Marvel and DC silver age comics were sold at the auction, some of which commanded very impressive prices. Single books which were sold included Amazing Spider-Man No. 1 in VF for $6,500 (another copy in FN+ sold for $6,200), Daredevil No. 1 in VF- for $1,200, Journey Into Mystery No. 83 from the Bethlehem Collection in FN for $2,800, Mystery In Space No. 1 in FN for $700, Showcase No. 1 from the Bethlehem Collection in VF+ for $4,000, Showcase No. 4 in FN for $6,000, Showcase No. 10 from the Bethlehem Collection in NM- for $6,500, and X-Men No. 1 in VF for $3,800. Groups of silver age books which were sold included Amazing Spider-Man Nos. 1-20 and Annuals Nos. 1-7 in G/VG for $2,600, Amazing Spider-Man Nos. 2-10 in VF+ for $5,000, Amazing Spider-Man Nos. 11-20 in VF+ for $3,200, Fantastic Four Nos. 2, 4, 5, 7-21 in G+ for $1,200, Showcase Nos. 13 and 14 in overall FN+ for $1,700, Showcase Nos. 22-24 in overall FN- for $1,300, Showcase Nos. 16, 18 and 34-36 in overall FN for $1,200, X-Men Nos. 2-4 in overall FN for $1,300 and X-Men Nos. 5-32, 34, 35-58, 60-64, and 67-69 (duplicates of Nos. 40, 51, and 62) in overall VF for $4,500. One book which had a great deal of interest in it was a copy of Showcase No. 4 in VF (estimated at $12,000-$15,000) until it was revealed that it had been moderately restored. The book passed at $7,000.

Books by other publishers included a group of Fawcett comics (Don Winslow No. 177; Captain Marvel Jr. Nos. 20, 29 and 30; Captain Marvel No. 19; Marvel Family No. 9; and Master Comics Nos. 51 and 52) in overall VF for $650, Chamber of Chills Nos. 5, 10, 12, 14-22, 24 and 26 in overall VF- for $600, Doll Man Quarterly Nos. 7, 12-14, 16, 19-21, 24-25, 27, 33, 35-36, 38-39, 42, 44, 46-47 in overall VG for $500, Future Comics No. 1 in FN- for $800, Mickey Mouse Magazine No. 1 in FN for $3,500 and Famous Monsters of Filmland Nos. 1-20 in overall VF for $3,200.

A large part of the auction was original comic book art, much of which showcased the talent of Jack Kirby. Pieces of the King's original art which sold included page 16 of Avengers No. 3 (featuring the Hulk vs. Sub-Mariner) for $2,600, the final page of Fantastic Four No. 5 (featuring Dr. Doom) for $5,000, page 9 of Fantastic Four No. 46 (The Thing vs. Black Bolt) for $2,200, page 10 of Fantastic Four No. 46 for $4,200, page 6 of Fantastic Four No. 59 (featuring Dr. Doom and the Silver Surfer) for $9,000, and page 17 of Fantastic Four No. 61 for $700. Jack Kirby helped give fans some of the most enduring characters in comics, and his legacy leaves something that will delight new fans for many years to come. Other examples of original comic art which sold included , the cover recreation of Adventure Comics No. 40 (featuring the Sandman) by Creig Flessel for $900, the cover recreation of Showcase No. 4 (featuring the Flash) by Carmine Infantino for $4,200, a watercolor profile of Batman by Bob Kane for $1,800, the original art to page 20 of Amazing Spider-Man No. 9 (featuring Spider-Man and Electro) for $3,600, and the original art to Sea Devils No. 9 by Russ Heath for $4,800. The amount of interest shown by collectors for original comic art exemplifies the ever growing desire comic book fans have for owning a one-of-a-kind piece of comic book history.

Even though the Christie's auction did not have as large a group of comic books and memorabilia as the Sotheby's auction earlier this year did, it can still be considered a success. Some of the dealers present at the auction felt that it gave an accurate representation of the market overall. Bill Ponsetti felt that some people walked away with some real bargains on the comic books, and also believed that the comic auctions are great for the industry. Robert Roter of Pacific Comic Exchange, Inc. felt that the comic books sold at the expected prices, and many did not go beyond the estimated price range. He also stated that the larger books, such as Batman No. 1 and Captain America No. 1, were sold at reasonable prices.

With comic book auctions becoming more widespread, it seems that they are destined to become another exciting addition to the multi-faceted world of comics. ■

INTEGRITY SATISFACTION

HOT COLD BOUGHT SOLD

By James Cangialosi

There has been a great deal of activity in the comic industry during recent months. Steve Geppi has purchased the Overstreet Price Guide, Defiant Comics and Ominous Press have gone out of business, and Marvel Comics has acquired Welsh Publishing and Malibu Comics. Each of these events exemplify how the comic industry is constantly changing. The only recent event I am uncomfortable with is the large amount of companies Marvel has been purchasing. They seem to be trying to get a piece of every corner of the comic market, and could be spreading themselves a little to thin. Comic related cartoons, toys, and cards are fine if that is the type of material you like, but what about the unimaginative stories, unoriginal art, and inflated comic book prices that are so prevalent in the industry today. I wish Marvel well in building their empire, but I hope they remember the fans, and try to put out material that would give true comic book collectors something to cheer about again.

Let's see what everyone had to say this month.

GREG BARTHOLOMEW
ALL-AMERICAN COMICS
141 W. MARKET
WARREN, OH 44481
WORK: (216) 393-3137

Hot: Amazing Spider-Man Nos. 1-10, Fantastic Four Nos. 1-20, Flash Comics (GA) Nos. 80-104, and all More Fun Comics.

Cold: Mid-grade second tier silver age Marvel books in VG or less.

Sold: Amazing Spider-Man No. 23 in FN+ for $125, Amazing Spider-Man No. 27 in FN+ for $100, Amazing Spider-Man No. 150 in FN for $30, and Iron Man No. 3 in VF for $65.

Opinion: The different facets of the comic companies are doing well. There has been a slow down in the back issue market somewhat, but it is still alive.

Number One Want: Flash Comics No. 1

KEITH CONTARINO
CONTARINO'S COMICS
2624 GREENE'S LANE
POWDER SPRING, GA 30073
WORK: (404) 971-1556
FAX: (404) 973-6501

Hot: Good Girl Art, Bondage covers, Shomburg art, Fawcetts, pre-1963 silver age (if priced right), and 10 cents DC's.

Cold: All silver age.

Bought: A group of golden age DC's and Timelys.

Sold: A group of Fawcetts including Captain Marvel, Captain marvel Jr., and Whiz in overall VG/FN- for $1,200.

Opinion: Those who say the silver age market is still strong are the ones who have a vested interest in it.

Number One Want: Action Comics No. 1

TIM COTTRILL
THE BOOKERY
35 NORTH BROAD ST.
FAIRBORN, OH 45324
WORK: (800) 953-1408
FAX: (513) 879-9327

Hot: Any comic books from the 1930's, and Timelys in any grade. DC books from the 1950's are picking up.

Cold: Some DC golden age books, such as Detective Comics and World's Finest, are slowing down somewhat.

Bought: High grade copy of Amazing Spider-Man Nos. 6 and 9, and a low grade copy of Our Army at War No. 81 (First Appearance Sgt. Rock).

Sold: Batman No. 17 in VG/FN for $300, Blue Beetle No. 53 in FN for $105, Flash No. 106 FR/G for $53, Master Comics No. 1 in FN/VF for $1,900 and World's Best Comics No. 1 in G for $1080.

Number One Want: Any golden age Captain America.

JOE DUNGAN
NOW & THEN COLLECTIBLES
5800 BROADWAY SUITE #205
SAN ANTONIO, TX 78209
WORK: (210) 805-9690

Hot: Low grade, inexpensive golden age super-hero titles are moving, as are high and low grade silver age books. Silver age Marvels move better than DC's. Specific areas of interest are Horror and Science Fiction comics from the 1950's and 1960's, and war books in mid-grade or better condition.

Cold: Some silver age titles, such as Avengers, Captain America, Daredevil, Iron Man, and Sub-Mariner. Books from the 1970's, with the exception of some Kirby's, are not moving.

Sold: Batman Nos. 4-11 ranging in grade from VG-VF at guide price, Captain America Nos. 2 in VG/FN, 5 in VF- and 6 in VF+ all at a little above guide, and Human Torch Nos. 3 in FN/VF, 8 in VG/FN and 10 in VG all at guide.

Opinion: Silver age market is still moving and is still strong. Golden age books are not moving in all grades, and those who are saying so are giving an inaccurate portrayal of the industry. The new market is creeping back to a speculators market. People have to learn to buy what they like, and not what they think is going to go up in value.

Number One Want: In golden any All-American Comics between Nos. 16-23, and from the silver age Strange Tales No. 110 in any grade.

BRUCE EDWARDS
QUASAR COMICS
PO BOX 2227
LOUISVILLE, KY 40201-2227
WORK: (502) 897-3266

Hot: From the golden age interest is in all D.C. hero books, Centaur's, Fiction House, 1930's comic books, books featuring Lou Fine art, and Timelys. Key silver age Marvels and DC's in lower grades are also moving.

Cold: Marvels from the mid-1960's and up, with the exception of key issues.

Bought: Assorted issues of Rocket Blast Comics Collector, a group of underground comics, and a group of Fanzines from the 1960's.

Opinion: There is an unrealistic price spread in relatively cheap books from the 1960's in grades ranging from good-mint.

Number One Want: Mystery Men No. 1

JOE FIELD
FLYING COLOR COMICS
2980 TREAT BLVD.
CONCORD, CA 94518
WORK: (510) 825-5410

Hot: All Timely super-hero books in all grades, if accurately priced. Silver age keys are moving in all grades.

Cold: Back issues are slow in general. The amount of dollars being spent in the market is down from last year.

Sold: Conan The Barbarian No. 1 in VF for $140, Tales of Suspense No. 39 in FN/VF for $1,500, X-Men No. 28 in F/VF for $55, and X-Men No. 54 in FN for $30.

Opinion: Mail order dealers have an advantage in the industry, because they have low overhead in comparison to retailers.

HASTINGS-ON-HUDSON, NY 10706
WORK: (914) 478-4676

Hot: Key Marvel and DC silver age books, especially first issues and first appearances. There is still greater interest in silver age Marvels than DC's, with lower grade books selling at a good pace. High grade books sell, but are not as common as their lower grade equivalents. Specific titles of interest are Amazing Spider-Man and X-men.

Cold: Iron man No. 1.

Sold: Giant Size X-Men no. 1 in VF+ for $220, The Incredible Hulk No. 4 in FN for $225, The Incredible Hulk No. 180 in VF+ for $60, Iron Man No. 1 in VG for $70, Spiderman No. 1 Platinum Edition for $125, and Star Wars No. 1 in VF/NM for $15.

Opinion: Some dealers at shows have no grip of reality. They sometimes increase prices on their books to a price they know to be inaccurate.

Number One Want: Superman No. 1 in low grade.

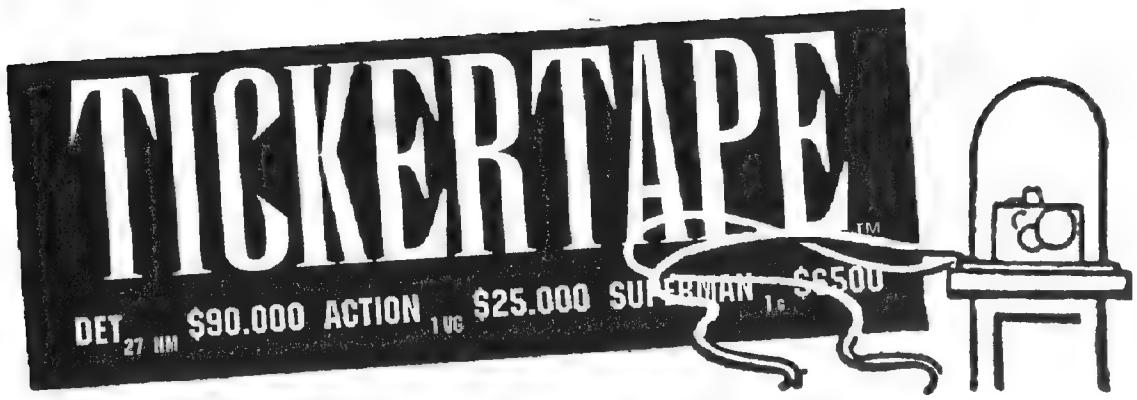
Wow! Tallying up the number one want column, we see that Action Comics #1 is far and away the most-wanted book in America!

Is Silver ailing? There seems to be some disagreement between dealers who feel the silver age market is slowing down, and those who believe it is still strong. I've heard arguments from both sides during my interviews, but there doesn't seem to a consensus at this point.

Happy holidays to one and all.
See you in 1995.



MARKET TALK

Here's A Few Suggestions

I'm writing to you today in response to an article that appeared in Comics Source #13. The article concerned the do's and don'ts when conducting mailorder business and addressed many points on both the buyer's and seller's sides. I would like to add a few comments to this topic.

What I wish to address is the matter of buyer etiquette. Let me explain. I deal in comic books on a parttime, small level basis. I am not a professional dealer, merely a long-time collector and fan who has, over the years, bought and sold many items via mailorder. It is a fun hobby and it's also a means of supplementing my income. Over the years I've placed ads in CBG as well as answered ads and I've recently begun advertising in Comics Source. I have two other fulltime jobs and selling comic books is something that I do in what I laughingly refer to as my "spare time."

Yes, it's fun but, while it's not my primary business, I always try to conduct my transactions in a professional manner. This does not mean I'm some stuffed shirt. It merely means that there are some simple rules of conduct and decorum that are easy to follow and should be observed and practiced by anyone conducting a mailorder sale.

To begin with, since I work two jobs, I'm rarely at home during regular business hours. I prefer to receive any incoming orders via written correspondence, but I understand the need of a potential customer to speak to me directly to inquire as to availability and condition of books. Like most people, I have an answering machine to take calls while I'm out and here's where I get to the nut of the problem.

Buyers, if you call someone about a comic you're interested in and have to leave a message, please speak clearly and state your message completely. Please tell me your name, the time of day you're calling and most importantly, where you're calling from. Yes, I get phone numbers with area codes, but I'm not a walking area code directory and if I call someone in the Eastern Time Zone from Texas at 10 o'clock at night, I'm liable to wake someone up. Time zones and area codes are important so please state them. Also, state specifically which book you're interested in purchasing, not just a generic "I'd like to talk to you about your comics." Please state where you saw my ad, because I advertise in both Comics Source and CBG. I'll be happy to call you back but please specify when it will be convenient, otherwise we both end up playing a very frustrating game of telephone tag. And please don't cry when I tell you that I charge $5 for P&H. Long distance phone calls cost money, as does packaging and shipping books, and the $5 I charge just barely covers those expenses.

If you do send me written correspondence, again, please be specific as to which books you're interested in. And if at all possible, type your letter. If that's not possible, print it as neatly and as legibly as possible. I've received some scrawled notes that were right next door to illegible. I work as a freelance writer for our daily newspaper so good writing skills are important to me. I'm not grading people's letters but if I were, I'd have to give failing marks in such things as spelling, punctuation and grammar. Proofread your work. Comic book fans get enough bad PR as is and seeing some of these atrocities only adds fuel to the fire. I'm not suggesting everyone run out and purchase a style book, but for goodness sakes people, read something else besides comic books!

I realize I've probably alienated most, if not all, of any potential customers I might have out there. That's a chance I'll just have to take. Come on people, if we can't all be professional and businesslike in our hobby, let's at least be courteous and civil.

Comments About Price Guides

I would like to respond to some of the comments made in recent issues concerning comic book price guides. I have been an avid user of the Overstreet Price Guide since the mid '70s when few collectors knew of its existence. Overstreet helped standardize the comic book market during this time and advanced the hobby of collecting and even investing in comics. Although the Overstreet Guide has had and continues to have more than its share of flaws, it is still considered the "most complete" price guide. I believe the emergence of Wizard and other guides over the years will help solidify the collection of market data forcing all guides to develop more accurate means of reflecting the true market value of a book.

Although I have never advocated the raising of comic prices just to show growth, continuous growth does encourage collectors to branch into new titles with more confidence. I'm convinced the reason Spider-Man comics are in such high demand is because collectors/investors identify it as a title whose prices will keep rising. In this case, the guides appear to help drive collector interest.

In the area of "why do price guides list NM prices for books prior to 1965?" —because in today's market so few truly high grade key books exchange hands, determining the going rate for these books is difficult for any guide produced monthly. I therefore propose that the market is actually determined by the number of requests being made for such books and not actual sales.

There are few true NM books from the Silver Age (maybe one of every 5000 copies existing depending on the issue?) Although most dealers list books in NM, most are actually in the high VF range. The reason for the overgrading is because of the scarcity of these books—even in VF. My personal experience has been that most dealers overgrade the high grade books and actually undergrade low grade books. For this reason alone, it makes low grade books more desirable. Not to pick on only dealers, most collectors (probably around 50%), do not really know how to accurately grade books and therefore rely on the dealers assessment of the books condition.

I have noticed that a lot more collectors are beginning to buy low grace (VG or less) non-key silver age when well priced. These collectors are becoming more plentiful and are also interested in reading the books they buy. I even know several collectors who collect both a high and low grade run of their favorite titles. The "mint" craze (of which I am as guilty as anyone else) is still alive and well, but a lot of these collectors are reducing their standards to accept lower grade books because of the difficulty in finding true high grade issues.

Can One Man Crash The Market?

Well, well, well. It appears my Silver Age article ("Is Silver Dead Or Merely Ailing?"—Comics Source #14) has raised a few hackles. Good! As you well know, I encourage disagreement with anything I write. That's an indicator that I'm making people think.

My observations of what is more and more an obvious trend are based on 1) my personal experience 2) discussions with scores of dealers and 3) historical perspective.

One dealer (who shall remain nameless) has insinuated that my comments are "irresponsible journalism." This dealer has purchased many high grade Silver Age books in the past; some from me. He is a bright, interesting person and I certainly bear him no ill will. However, he is a Silver Age dealer (at least part-time if CBG ads are any indication) and he certainly has a vested interest in promoting Silver Age comics. For that matter, so do I. I have a large stack of Silver Age books and, believe me, I wish they sold like they did a few years ago. But, it just ain't so, folks! I'm not making this up. All I'm doing is reporting what I see and what many, many others are telling me.

I've been around as long or longer than 99% of the comic dealers out there and I've seen the same thing over and over. Hell, I remember having a conversation with Jon Warren back in '84 or'85 where we were trying to understand why books like Journey #83 and Avengers #4 were dead and how we could revive interest in them. I remember a store owner friend of mine in '85 or early '86 purchasing a stunning collection of Spiderman #1-100 and taking months to sell the #1 at guide (about $800 at the time)!

Comics are cyclical. As Silver Age exploded in price over a relatively short time, it absolutely had to slow down. At present, Golden Age is generally thought of as a better deal. Does this mean Silver is dead? Of course not. But, it's a hell of a lot easier to sell run-of-the-mill low grade Superman #2-25 or Batman #45-90 or Captain Marvel #22-30 than it is Daredevil #1-20, Avengers #1-20, Hawkman #1-20 or Atom #1-20. High grade Silver continues to sell, as do accurately graded low and mid-grade keys. I think this will continue.

Anytime you see anything in print, consider the source.

HOW TO USE TICKERTAPE

TickerTape is such a revolutionary way of reporting prices that, at first, somereaders don't understand how to use it. But once they see what it is all about, most people say, "Whoa! Why didn't someone think of this before?" The answer is simple, no one else has the genius and vision that us Einstein's here at Comics Source have. Ha!

To help you lesser mortals understand, we have provided the information below to help explain the format. Remember, all of the prices you see in TickerTape are actual, documented sales—not estimates, averages, or bald-faced guesses. Hey, TickerTape is the truest kind of price guide. But we're always looking for ways to improve, so if you have any suggestions, write us at TickerTape, Box 2512, Chattanooga, TN 37409

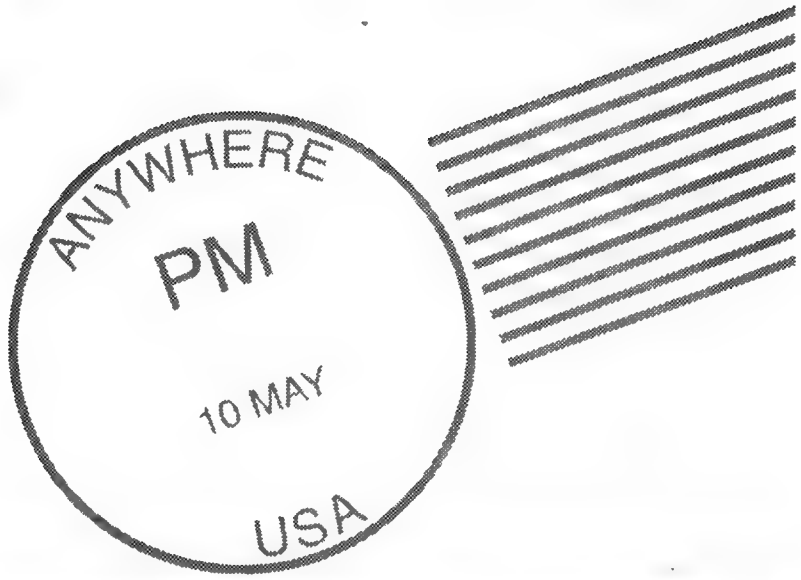
BUYING DIRECT

MAIL-ORDER TIPS



For many of you, mail-order is your primary means of purchasing items for your collection. That's why COMICS SOURCE has put together the following special section. Our Marketplace offers a convenient place to quickly find the items you need from a wide variety of dealers and collectors. But before you shop by phone, look for the mail-order source that is best for you. Here are a few tips to help you get the most out of your buying experience.

Mail order is an excellent way to buy and sell, because it gives you instant access to more buyers, sellers and merchandise than can be found in any g e o g r a p h i c market. But, as in any endeavor, it's smart to take precautions.

Here are a few tips that will make your dealings through the mail easy and hassle free.

Research The Company

Well-established companies or long-time collectors tend to be reliable, but if you're not sure how well established a company or individual is, it pays to do a little research and ask a few questions. Get References. Call the publication the ad was placed in and inquire as to any complaints levied against the persons placing the ad. Comics Source blacklists any advertiser who receives three unresolved written complaints.

Start Small

Purchase inexpensive items first, if possible. If you're pleased with the service you receive, order again.

Compare Prices

If a price seems too good to be true, beware. One of the greatest features of our marketplace is the ability to quickly compare prices. If someone's price is far below what others are offering the item for, ask why. There could be a good reason, but sometimes this is a sign of a potential rip-off. We try to screen advertisers, but it's still smart to take precautions.

Pay With Credit

Whenever possible, use a credit card. Some credit card companies do such things as chargeback on unsatisfactory purchases or give a refund if you find a lower price elsewhere. If you have a problem with an order, your credit card company will often deal with the mail-order company.

Be Cautious

Keep a record of your transactions (orders, follow-up letters, phone conversations) so that you have recourse in the unlikely event of a problem.

Consider using a 3rd party service

3rd party services, such as Pacific Comics Exchange, offer to act as an escrow service. Companies charge a fee for this service, but the fee is well worth it if you're spending large sums of money.

Ask For Photocopies

Most reliable collectors or dealers will be only too glad to send you a photocopy or Polaroid photo of an item. Sometimes they may ask for a small fee per photo.

Delivery Methods

Ask about delivery methods — find out what carriers are used, how fast they are, and how much each one costs. Record delivery information.

Return Policies

Because you're buying sight unseen, make sure the company or individual has a return policy you're comfortable with. Find out if you are responsible for paying shipping charges on returned goods and whether you'll be charged a restocking fee. A typical return policy is six days from date of receipt. If the company does not offer a return policy, don't buy!

MAKING THE GRADE

How To Grade Your Comics Like The Pros

by Jon R. Warren

Comic books, like coins, stamps, sports cards, movie posters, and everything else that people collect, are valued according to condition. Because human beings prize things that glitter, the more like new the book is, the more collectors will pay for it. Seems simple enough, right? WRONG!

Because talking about condition really means talking about money, buyers and sellers often have a hard time agreeing on the grade of a book. But, fortunately, there are standard terms that everyone does agree on (what those terms mean is another story). Unluckily, it takes years of looking at thousands of variances of grade before you can really be a knowledgeable grader. So how do you know what grade a comic book is in if you are new at making the grade? Let me suggest that you start simple and then focus in on the final grade.

First let's look at some general terms that could be used to describe the condition of a comic book, then we'll cover some of the specialized terms that dealers and collectors use.

PERFECT

We all know what that is, it's a book in brand new condition. When you go to the newsstand and pick the best copy you can find, that's probably a PERFECT, like-new comic book (unless it was mangled on the newsstand). The term for a comic book in perfect condition is MINT. Although some dealers will try to convince you that 30 or 40 year-old comic books aren't graded as strictly as new comics, I wouldn't believe it if I were you. When it comes to MINT, mint is mint. Period.

ABOVE AVERAGE

If someone bought a comic, read it once or twice, then carefully filed it away, it is in ABOVE AVERAGE condition. We refer to comics in above average condition as VERY FINE (abbreviated VF).

AVERAGE

The term collectors use to describe a comic in AVERAGE condition is VERY GOOD (or VG for short). Since comic books are supposed to be read and handled, books that have been read and handled are in average condition. Creased corners, little tears, stuff that you could expect from normal use is common in a VG condition book.

BELOW AVERAGE

Comic books that you owned when you were six years old are in BELOW AVERAGE condition because you probably beat the @@#$!! out of them. And they look it! The comic is still complete with all pages, but the cover might be loose, or a piece might be missing from the corner. You know what I mean... ROUGH ROUGH! Collectors describe comics in below-average condition as GOOD. Actually, there's nothing good about it other than the fact that you have a copy to keep until a better one comes along.

POOR

A book that looks like it was rescued from the trash is in POOR condition. You know you have handled a POOR condition book when you rush to wash your hands afterwards.

Now that you know the five basic ranges of condition a comic book can be in, it's a much easier task to focus in on exactly what the real grade is. Try it yourself. Take a stack of your books and grade them. Is the first one in the stack just like the day you bought it except for a tiny bend on the corner? Then it's not MINT, but you could certainly say it is ABOVE AVERAGE. Put it in the VF stack. Does the next one in the stack look kind of read and re-read? Put it in the VG stack. Continue sorting the books by basic grades. When you are done, refer to the following detailed grading descriptions. You can focus in on the actual grade by reading these fine-tuning grading descriptions. The one that sounds the closest to the grade of your book is the actual grade.

These are the terms that comic book collectors use to describe condition. At conventions or your local comics shop you will see these grades and grade-codes used to indicate grade. Memorize them, learn what they mean, and then you can start making the right grade.

GRADING DEFINITIONS & TERMS

Many collectors use a point system for figuring the grade of a comic. Some collectors use a 100 point scale, others use a 10 point scale. For our purposes, we will use a 10 point scale for grading comparisons. A perfect 10 is Mint, while a 1 is Good.

MINT (M)

A Perfect 10 on a 1-10 scale. A flawless copy in the same condition as the day it was printed. The MINT grade is virtually non-existent in Pre-1970 comics. Golden Age comics in MINT are extremely rare and fetch huge premiums over average copies of the same comic. When grading a comic mint, no consideration should be given to the age of the book. No printing defects can appear on a MINT comic. The cover should have full original gloss, and appear bright, with sharp corners and no imperfections of any sort. Minute color variations can occur during printing, and are allowed in the MINT classification. The inside covers and all pages are creamy white and fresh. The binding (spine) is tight, flat, and clean without wear or stress lines. Not the slightest blemish can be detected around staples, along the binding and edges, or at corners. Arrival dates pencilled (not inked) on the cover are usually acceptable as long as they're very small. When the surfaces of the front and back covers are held to the light, not the slightest wear, indentations, wrinkles or defects of any kind can be observed. As comics must be truly perfect to be in this grade, they are obviously extremely scarce and seldom offered for sale.

NEAR MINT TO MINT (NM/M)

Approaching MINT but with a very slight blemish of some sort. This grade is used interchangeably with NM+.

NM+

Top of the NM range. NM/M and NM+ are interchangeable.

NEAR MINT (NM)

9 on a 1-10 scale. A copy that is virtually MINT but for one or two very tiny imperfections. For example, a tiny (1/16th inch) color flake missing at a staple, corner or edge, or a tiny (1/16th inch) edge tear is allowable in the category if no other imperfections are present. No crease of any kind. Superb cover gloss is present. A very few tiny stress lines along the spine could be present. Pages and covers should be creamy to white, not yellow or brown. No color touch-up, repair or restoration of any kind is allowed in this grade. This grade is very rare in books prior to 1970.

NM-

Bottom of the NM range.

VERY FINE NEAR MINT (VF/NM)

8 on a 1-10 scale. Beautiful, glossy and excellent in every way with only minor imperfections that keep it out of the higher grades. One tiny corner crease of less than 1/8th inch length is allowed. A couple of tiny (1/16th inch) stress lines along the spine are acceptable if the appearance of the book is not gravely affected. Pages should be creamy white, not yellowed or tan. A common defect in this grade is a tiny spine tear at the upper or lower binding (spine) not greater than 1/16th inch in length. One or two tiny tears (1/16th inch) are permitted in this grade if the copy is otherwise flawless. An extremely tiny tear repair, color touch-up, unobtrusive arrival date erasure or other similar invisible alteration, on an otherwise Near Mint copy, is permitted in this grade.

VF+

Top of the VF range.

VERY FINE (VF)

7 on a 1-10 scale. Superb. An outstanding copy in an unusual state of preservation. Clean and bright with sharp corners and pliant interior paper. Slight cover wear is present; possibly 5 or 6 tiny wrinkles or stress lines at staples or along spine where cover has been opened a few times; still clean and flat with 80 per cent of cover gloss retained. Interior page quality should be creamy to white, not yellowish or brown. A few tiny color chips or imperfections could be present. A faint 1/4" corner crease on an otherwise exceptional copy could be present in this grade. Very minor professional restoration or repair is permitted in this grade if noted and described.

VF-

Bottom of the VF range.

FINE-VERY FINE (FVF)

6 on a 1-10 scale. Above Average. A clean, bright copy lacking the crispness associated with Very Fine. Pages can be slightly yellowed but not brown or brittle. Several tiny stress lines along the spine or covers can be expected. Several tiny color flakes are permitted. No subscription creases or spine roll allowed in this grade. Corners may be slightly rounded. Exceptional cover gloss remains (60 per cent or more).

F+

Top of the FINE range.

FINE (F)

5 on a 1-10 scale. A slightly better-than-average copy with obvious aging and diminishment, but still relatively flat, clean and glossy without subscription creases, writing on cover (except possibly an arrival date), brown margins or tape repairs. Typical flaws include: Light spine wear, minor surface wear, a light crease (1/4" in length), minor yellowing/tanning to interior pages. Still a bright copy with 50 per cent cover gloss. A few stress lines around staples and along spine are normal in this grade, but not more than 1/8" in length. One small edge chip or several tiny chips (such as Marvel chips) are permitted in this grade. One minor tear is allowed on an otherwise FVF copy. A very minor spine roll on an otherwise clean and uncreased copy is permitted in this grade..

F-

Bottom of the FINE range.

VERY GOOD FINE (VG/F)

4 on a 1-10 scale. Better than VG+, approaching FINE but not quite sharp enough to merit the higher grade. Frequently, a FINE copy with an unusual flaw is lowered to VG/F.

VG+

Top of the VG range. Slightly below a VG/F copy.

VERY GOOD (VG)

3 on a 1-10 scale. Average. Ordinary signs of use. Appears used, but not abused. The common state of preservation of a comic book that has been used as intended. Significant diminishment of original cover glossiness. Noticeable discoloration or fading could be present. One or two minor markings on covers is permitted. Minor spine rolling may have occurred. Lightly creased along spine or extremities; a faint subscription crease is allowed. The covers could have a minor tear or crease where a corner was folded under. The centerfold could be detached or loose from the staples. A small chip or piece from the covers, or a small piece from an interior page that does not affect the live area (artwork area), is acceptable. Pages and inside covers could be tannish or yellowed, but not brittle. A small tape repair could be present in this grade. Still, the appearance of the comic is such that many collectors find the book acceptable until a better copy can be located.

MINT IS COMMON IN RECENT COMICS

*Today, most recent comics are bought by collectors and immediately sealed in protective coverings. Recent releases are usually in Near Mint to Mint condition.

VG-

Bottom of the VG range.

GOOD VERY GOOD (G/VG)

2 on a 1-10 scale. Approaching VERY GOOD, but with too many signs of abuse to be a solid VERY GOOD. G/VG and G+ represent a very slight variation in grade.

G+

Top of the GOOD range.

GOOD (G)

1 on a 1-10 scale. Below average. A worn copy but complete with all pages including centerfold, which may or may not be loose. Creased, scuffed, covers lack gloss, faded. Pages could be brown and brittle. Although a copy in this grade could have white pages and covers, the accumulation of defects such as creases, tears or chips and general wear prevent the book from a higher classification.

G-

Bottom of the GOOD range.

FR/G

Approaching GOOD, with too much wear to be a solid GOOD. FR/G and FR+ are interchangeable.

FR+

Heavily worn but approaching the GOOD classification.

FAIR (FR)

0.5 on a 1-10 scale. Used and abused. Extremely worn, creased, and dirty, with possibly loose pages or significant tears, but still complete. Possibly small pieces missing from the cover, inked markings, tape, etc.

P POOR

0 on a 1-10 scale! A terrible copy. Damaged; extremely worn; dirty; or otherwise unsuited for collection purposes. Pages could be missing. Could be coverless if noted.

GRADING TIPS

HOW TO USE THE MARKETPLACE

The Comics Source Marketplace is such a revolutionary way of listing comics for sale that, at first, many readers don't understand how to use it. But once they see how it works, the benefits are immediately obvious. Because all comics are listed alphabetically, regardless of who the seller is, finding comics for your collection is quick and simple. No longer do you have to scan hundreds of ads with a magnifying glass (like you do in CBG).

But our format admittedly takes some getting used to, so to help you newcomers understand, we have provided the information below.

Remember, all of the items in the Marketplace are either FOR SALE or WANTED. You contact buyers or sellers directly, using their ID Code and the advertiser directory found in the back of the magazine.

We're always looking for ways to improve, so if you have any suggestions, write us at Comics Source Marketplace, Box 2512, Chattanooga, TN 37409

HOW TO SUPPORT YOUR HABIT

■ By Rick Nelson

I have a habit bordering on obsession: I collect comics. It is one of the cleanest, healthiest, and most enjoyable habits I know. It can however, be very expensive. A way I have overcome the financing of this habit is by becoming a part-time dealer.

It came to being this way due to the sale of my second hand bookstore (and my entire collection of comics) six years ago. The proceeds of this sale went to a backlog of bills that I had accumulated. The most heartbreaking thing for me was for the first time since I was seven years old, I did not own a single comic!

Starting my collection all over was very difficult. I had a couple of kids, a wife, and was still low on the totem pole at my new job. So, most of my comic purchases had to be bargains. If it had some sort of appeal, fit my budget, and was under priced, I bought it.

I also did a lot of comic trading those first three years. This is cheap and fun as long as both parties get something they want. It is very enjoyable being in contact with fellow collectors and sharing a common interest.

Still one problem with this situation was that I was taking money out of my family's budget each month. This drain did not make my wife happy. I solved this problem a little over a year ago by selling comics through mail order.

This keeps my wife and now four children very happy. For the most part all purchases and comic sale proceeds are kept separate from the family budget. This keeps things balanced and allows me to continue to support by habit. ■

Before you consider being a dealer in your spare time, be prepared for some changes and some work. I would like to make a few points:

1. Enjoy what you purchase. Look for bargains as much as possible, but be prepared to have them for a long time.
2. Be honest.
3. Be prepared to make some mistakes but make certain you learn from them. Being a novice, I have made some mistakes, but I have always addressed them and corrected them quickly. Treat others how you would expect to be treated.
4. Expect to take phone calls at strange times. I have talked to customers as late as midnight and as early as 6:30am. I do not always like calls at these times but I do not sleep much with four young boys anyway.
5. Keep records of everything. Follow some simple accounting practices, any how to book on this subject can help. Also, records of shipping dates and shipping receipts. Finally records of your customers, these can be as valuable as any comic in your collection.
6. Acquire experience and second opinions on grading comics.
7. Get some knowledge of the comic book marketplace. There are many fine weekly and monthly publications (you are reading one of them!) Get them and read them. You will gain some insight and savvy of the comic book marketplace.
8. Expect disappointments.
9. Expect to put in some extra time. I enjoy the time spent a great deal. To some however, it might seem like work.
10. Have fun!

This is how I support my comic collecting habit. My collection has grown enormously, and mostly it has been self-generated from sales, trades, and bargain hunting. I have a lot of fun, and my collection includes comics that I enjoy.

How To Sell Via Mail Order

By Craig Shutt

Whether you want to sell your own comic collection or turn your hobby into a part-time or full-time job, knowing the basics of mail-order selling can make the difference between success and failure.

Before you sell your first comic, there are many considerations. Each will be based on how you intend to do business, what inventory you want to offer, and your ultimate goals. Here are some of the key elements to consider.

Marketing

Your first decision involves how to reach the customers most interested in your comics. That means advertising. Fortunately, there are more and more options available to achieve that. Unfortunately, it means more decisions to ensure you reach the best audience for the least money.

Your optimum source is not necessarily the biggest magazine. You want to match your comics to the biggest audience looking for that type of material. For instance, if most of your inventory is gold or silver age comics, you should look for a magazine that has a large base of those readers (like this one). If you have a lot of current, hot comics, your choice should be a publication that focuses on current news and price fluctuations.

Cost Per Thousand of Readers (CPM): To find the most-effective magazine, examine its CPM (cost per thousand). A magazine with 20,000 readers and a price of $100 for the size ad you want has a CPM of $5. Keep in mind, however, you want to find the most effective CPM, not the lowest. That means that if the magazine has 20,000 readers but only 2,000 are interested in the type of comics you have to sell, the effective CPM is $50.

The best way to judge the possible audience is to read a few copies of each magazine you're considering, see what types of articles they feature most, and decide to which one your type of comics are most targeted. The magazine also may have demographic surveys to indicate the interests of its readership.

Frequency vs. Reach: Another consideration involves how often your ad will run. Not all readers read every issue; some don't see an ad the first time it appears. It may be more effective to run an ad in a smaller magazine, reaching fewer buyers, and run it several times, reaching those buyers more frequently to remind them when they're in the buying mood.

Ad Size: The size of the ad has to be considered as well. A display ad can list all of your comics by item, while a classified ad can announce your available list in a smaller space. There are a host of variations between these two as well, including listing your most prominent comics and noting a longer list is available.

List Requirements: If you offer a list, you also must decide how the customer should receive it: free with their request; free with a self-addressed stamped envelope (SASE), available for a fee that's refundable on the first purchase, or available for a fee that's not refunded. The first will bring the most responses and cost the seller the most; the last will do the opposite.

Ad Elements

Some key components must be included in any display ad. The foremost ingredient for successfully selling through the mail is trust: Your customers must trust you from the moment they see your first ad. Otherwise, no matter how low your prices, your sales won't be as high as they could be. To ensure you project a trustworthy face, here are elements to include in the ad:

Address: Will you use a post office box or your home address? Some dealers prefer a box number, for fear some customers might think they run a retail business. Some sellers also fear the possibility of robbery. On the other hand, box numbers can be viewed as impermanent and scare off some buyers.

Phone number: Publishing a phone number assures the buyer that he can reach the seller if any problems develop. In addition, it allows buyers to reserve copies or find out more information than the ad can supply, a critical concern for more expensive books. Along with the number should be any time restrictions or cutoffs for calling—such as "9 a.m. to 6 p.m. EST." Don't forget to include your time zone.

Postage/insurance: Most dealers add a postage cost to ensure that profits aren't eaten up in the mail. Some place a flat fee no matter the size of the order; others vary it by price, assuming that the more expensive the order, the more the books will cost to mail. Others start with a flat fee of a few dollars and add a few cents for each book in the order. Decide which approach best covers all the costs, and remember that the simpler the plan is, the better chance the buyer will send the proper amount.

Also don't forget to insure every order, no matter the size. This expense also should be included in your postage cost. The post office or UPS can give you rates so your costs are covered.

Return/refund policy: Dealers must offer a return option, and stating this in the ad assures the buyer of the seller's reliability and trustworthiness. Be sure to include the time limit for all returns, making it clear that items must be postmarked by then to be accepted. Comics Source suggests at least a six-day period in which comics can be returned, no questions asked.

Such a policy is a requirement to ensure ethical business practices are upheld. Nevertheless, it can be troublesome for the seller. For instance, a buyer may return a comic after other buyers already have been told the book is sold. As a result, be sure not to flatly turn down other potential buyers until your buyer receives the comic and has a chance to review his purchase.

Also, keep a record of any damage to the book when you send it. Some unscrupulous buyers have been known to upgrade their collections by buying a comic slightly better than their own copy, sending their own back, and claiming it is the one they were sent. Such situations are rare and hard to resolve except by not doing business with the buyer again. One way to prevent this is to maintain a color photocopy record of every valuable book that you ship out. This way, you have proof of what your original item looked like in case the item sent back isn't the one you shipped out.

Payment methods: Many dealers will accept only money orders due to the high cost of bad checks, even if the check is made good. However, this can limit your customers, who would prefer to simply write a check and mail it off. Other options to be considered are credit cards and C.O.D. delivery. Each enhances the seller's services, but also offers considerable drawbacks in cost.

Trades/alternates: Be sure to include your policy on making trades for your stock. If you do offer them, list the books you are seeking, either by title or category, in you ad or catalog. Many dealers also suggest customers offer alternate selections in case their first choice is already sold. Any possibilities for fulfilling a customer's order rather than refunding his money should be considered and mentioned in the ad.

Time payments: Especially for gold and silver age comics at the higher end of the scale, buyers may be interested in time payments. Sellers should consider offering this option, as mentioning its availability offers a major advantage over other sellers. Such agreements must be worked out in strictest detail if they are offered. Turning down such plans may limit the number of possible buyers for the most popular and expensive books.

Minimum orders: Some sellers don't want to deal with small orders, such as those under $10, due to the time and cost involved in packaging. Consider whether you wish to place a minimum limit on your orders or are willing to take all comers. Again, the more restrictions, the fewer customers reached.

Lots or singles: Some dealers sell in large or small lots of comics rather than in singles. This ensures larger orders, but it also limits the number of customers.

Volume discounts: To encourage larger purchases, some dealers offer a percentage discount on orders of a sufficient size. You can decide the percentage and at what level it takes effect based on your inventory and price levels. The goal should be to encourage buyers to buy a little extra to reach the next level.

Grading

The most important element of selling your comics is communicating what you have for sale in a trustworthy manner that brings customers back. The key to that involves grading each comic accurately. Far more complaints have been registered against dealers for inaccurately describing the comic than for any other reason. Unfortunately, grading is an inexact art that can leave two honest people arguing over the final grade.

Be conservative: In general, grade your comics conservatively. This will ensure happy and repeat customers, which will help sell your comics faster and more completely than trying to wring the last few dollars out of each comic. Exceed their expectations for what they are buying and they will be back. If nothing else, this will significantly cut down on your returns, which dramatically impact your profits and the time you must devote to selling.

Be informative: When possible, go beyond the basic letter grade to describe any significant tears or defects, particularly for those books that are most expensive or most in demand. The more information you can give to the buyer, the less chance he will be expecting more than he receives.

Consider pre-approvals: You should consider whether you will send a book for approval prior to the buyer sending money. This may involve receiving references, a down payment, or other support. Another possibility is to send a color photocopy of the cover to provide at least a basis for judging wear. Yet another is to involve a third-party verification, which grades the comic independently. Especially for high-grade, high-priced books, such approaches can be critical to making the sale through the mail.

Note restoration fully: Finally, any restoration that has been done on the book must be noted. How this affects the pricing is up to the buyer and seller. But passing off a restored book as an original will cause serious trouble for the seller–and sooner or later, the restoration will be noticed.

SHIPPING TIPS

1 Ship orders within two days after the check clears.

2 Get a supply of padded mailers, boxes, mailing labels, and shipping tape. These are available at your local office supply store. Package with extreme care to avoid any damage in shipment. Inform the buyer when you will ship the order, and then follow up on it.

3 Always insure your package. For U.S. Postal Service packages, use a return receipt so that someone must sign for it. Whenever possible, use UPS or Federal Express because they automatically require a signature.

4 Pack books carefully in a sturdy box or mailer. Don't cram books into a package.

5 Include your name and address on both the outside and inside of your package.

6 Don't spend the money until the buyer's return privilege expires.

7 If an item is already sold, send a refund check, not a credit form.

8 Treat your buyers the way you'd like to be treated and they will become good customers—buying again and again.

9 As a Comics Source advertiser, you must accept returns for any reason if the comic(s) is sent back in the same condition received and postmarked within six days of receipt. Send refunds promptly. If comics you sent were damaged by the carrier, refund the buyer's money immediately and file your insurance claim.

Mail-Order sales have become highly regulated by the USPS, observing these rules will avoid problems.

Handling Orders

Now that you've placed your ad, convinced readers that you are a trustworthy seller, and they've placed an order with you, you're job has only begun, because the sale isn't done until the buyer receives his comics and is happy with them. To achieve that, here are some general suggestions:

Follow the Golden Rule: Treat each order the way you would want to be treated. Use sturdy, professional packaging, including corrugated boxes, paper wrapping, and bubble wrap or other protection to ensure no damage. Don't cram comics into a box that can't absorb shocks.

Be prompt: Send an acknowledgment, usually in the form of a post card, to let the buyer know his order has been received. If he paid by money order, this card can be sent the same time as the package, as the order probably will take longer to arrive, depending on your mailing choice. If he paid by check, send the card the same day and let him know the package will be sent as soon as the check clears. Give some idea of when he can expect it to arrive and include your phone number for follow-ups.

Be prepared for small orders: No matter how good your prices are, be prepared to handle small orders as well as large ones—and all orders equally important. Most buyers initially will place a small order to test the seller's proficiency and his reliability in grading. Preparing the small orders quickly and professionally will lead to bigger orders from the same people.

Send it return receipt: Send each order with a return receipt requested, so the customer has to sign to indicate he has received it. This ensures no mix-ups about whether the package became lost or when it arrived. Most mail services offer this for a fee. The downside is that it means the customer may have to go to the delivery house to pick up his package if he's not home when they try to deliver it.

Long-Term Success

To ensure long-term sales, keep track of your previous customers, as well as those who ordered a catalog but didn't buy. These represent interested buyers who may be potential future buyers for your next offering.

At the same time, you can be sure that if you follow the suggestions here, those buyers who have dealt with you will be happy to pass your name along to their friends as a reliable, trustworthy seller. That free advertising is the best available and will ensure your long-term success. ■

How To Sell Your Comics In The Comics Source Indexed Marketplace

1. COMPLETE the ADVERTISING FORMS on the following page as follows:

TITLE: Use the correct Comic Book title. Only comic book listings can be offered in the Marketplace. If the title was used by different companies indicate the year or publisher.

ISSUE #: The issue number of the comic. You cannot list more than one issue on a line.

YEAR: Important! Please indicate the year of publication of this issue.

PUBLISHER: Important! Help us prevent dataentry errors by indicating the publisher for each issue listed.

GRADE: See our grading definitions at the beginning of the Marketplace section.

PRICE: The price you are asking.

NOTES: Details that help clarify the condition, or special notes about the comic book. Please keep these notes under 12 words total. Notes must fit in the space provided. If you cannot fit the description on the line provided you will be charged for an extra listing.

2. GRADE strictly and accurately. This is the most important of all! 99% of all mail-order problems are a result of grading disputes.

3. MAIL, PHONE, or FAX your listings to us. We must receive them by the deadline for them to appear in the next issue.

4. INCLUDE PAYMENT (we accept Mastercard, Visa or check). Advertising cost is only $1.25 per listing.

PERSISTENCE PAYS!

Persistence pays, because sometimes the right buyer may not see your books the first time you list them. Keep your books in front of our ever-growing audience by running your listings for consecutive issues. There's a way to save BIG $$$ when you re-list your books in Comics Source.

After your books are in our database, you'll receive a monthly inventory report in the mail. Use this report to renew any or all of your listings for just 50 cents each (a big savings over our regular rate of $1.25 per listing). It's quick and easy to update the list and mail it back to Comics Source.

Your listings remain in our database for 6 months, so even if you haven't advertised in a while you can still take advantage of this offer. For more info, call (615) 265-5515.
